

Merry Christmas from the Shreves 2010

The good news is that we are all well and fit.

This picture is on Michael's first birthday.

Aaron and family left for Germany June 4th and are taking advantage of the area. They both have jobs and Michael will be tri-lingual when they return in 2 years.

Brad is a personal trainer for Equinox . He is also part of the NYC trapeze school and is a catcher on high trapeze. We are spending Christmas with him.

We were thrilled that the Giants finally won the World Series. Our summer was full of Giants' games. John and I went to the Giants' parade.

John did quite well in Stockton's 1st half marathon. He and Brad plan to run in NYC in March.

Fortunately we can keep in touch through Skype as we need a Michael fix often. We had to say good bye to our beloved cat Buddy of 15 years and then Ernie came into our lives. He is quite a cat and he even plays with Michael. Ernie also "plays" with Fido, our tortoise. I now have a personal trainer, knit with several groups, and continue my art classes. John spends calm wind days flying his various RC planes or riding his 91 Harley. Hope all is well with you.
